I will utilize the information in the dataset to determine the likelihood of a car crash to prevent such incidents happening in the future. Car crashes are serious accidents that could be fatal, and my final project will hopefully be able to predict and stop them. My audience would be drivers, and they would use my project in order to stay safe.